1. Heard.

2. The grievance of the Petitioner is twofold. Firstly, that police officers are unnecessarily visiting the residential premises of the petitioner and secondly, on 21.3.2005 the petitioner was illegally detained in the police station. Apart from mere allegations in this regard the petitioner has not placed on record any material in support of those allegations. The learned APP on the other hand stated that the police officers have not visited the premises of the petitioner and it was only on 19.3.2005 that the police officers visited the premises in order to serve the warrant issued by the Sessions Court. We accept the said statement on behalf of the respondents. The learned APP has also stated that the petitioner is not required in any matter at this stage and there is no complaint registered against the petitioner. While accepting the said statement nothing further is required to be done in the matter. The Petition accordingly stands disposed of.
